BRAND GUIDE OVERVIEW

RAMP LESS TRAVELED

Positioning Statement

For people with spinal cord injuries pursuing higher education, Ramp Less Traveled provides mentorship and financial support to build the confidence and independence necessary for a successful life post-injury.

Ramp Less Traveled recognizes the potential of students with spinal cord injuries; they are capable of pursuing and achieving ambitious goals. We work with students to help them successfully transition to college and pursue their dreams. We connect students and their families with mentors who guide them through the college process. We also distribute scholarships to ease the financial burden of higher education.

Founded in 2013 by Jay Ruckelshaus, Ramp aims to see students achieve their goals by guiding them through the challenges of attending college with a spinal cord injury. Our mentors are trained in navigating the college admission process as well as transitioning to life on campus. They work with students to identify solutions that make it possible for them to receive the full college experience and bring their dreams to fruition.

Tagline

Investing in students with spinal cord injury to succeed in college.

Target Market & Research Findings

Ramp is targeting ambitious high school graduates from 2011-2016, which equates to roughly 18,000 potential students a year.

Ramp is serving a niche market in higher education where there is a clear need for student support. The competition and alternative options do not provide the level of in-depth guidance that the Ramp mentors provide, thus reinforcing the need for Ramp's services.

Organizational Goals

Build Confidence: Provide the necessary tools to re-enter the community and make attending college a reality.

Provide Support: Ensure that the proper physical and structural support is available from the college campus.

Encourage Independence: Advance students' independence through higher education, leading to career obtainment.

VOICE

Use a tone that is hopeful and matter-of-fact, demonstrating that students can have ambitious goals after injury and showing both optimism and offering practical solutions.

Use Words Such As: Hopeful, Optimistic, Calm, Friendly, Future-focused, Practical

Do Not Use: SCI, Survivor, Victim, Suffered, Dependent, Needy
